

this week in Kerry Business

Who's making the news, the deals, the contracts, the profits...

MetPro host partners in Tralee

MEETING UP: Attending the MetPro dinner at the Ballygary House Hotel & Spa, Tralee, on Monday evening were front l-r: Noreen O'Mahony, Rick Earley (CEO), Dr John Fenwick, Robert Dayman and Una Houlihan. Back l-r: Niall O'Carroll, Patricia Daymon, Jakub Hajek, Rakesh Goyal, Caragh Corcoran, Felix Dairo and Apurbo Roy.

MetPro Group was delighted to welcome a number of their MetPro global partners from the USA, South Africa, Czech Republic and India to their head office in Tralee for a technical and strategic meeting this week in preparation for the launch of a new product range of metal working fluids and VCI protective coatings.

MetPro Group is a world leader in Vapour Corrosion Inhibitor (VCI) technologies and packaging solutions serving the automotive, steel and aluminium industries.

It was also an opportunity to welcome key technical individuals from their newly acquired global sites.

These included chief technologist, Dr John Fenwick from MetPro Technology South Africa, along with Robert Daymon from MetPro Group North America, Rakesh Goyal and Apurbo Roy of India MetPro Products Limited.

Rick Earley, CEO of MetPro Group, had firstly worked with Dr Fenwick 25 years ago in South Africa.

Dr Fenwick, along with his company, has now joined the group and MetPro looks forward to integrating this new range of products and technology into their global network. MetPro Group has grown to become one of the largest and most technologically advanced suppliers in its field.

